Abstract (en)

[origin: WO02062526A1] The invention relates to a hand-held machine tool for grinding, polishing or the like, comprising a drive motor, a transmission coupled to said drive motor, and a grinding wheel (28) functionally linked with the transmission. The inventive tool is further characterized in that the transmission is provided with a switchgear (30) with which at least two kinds of movement of the grinding wheel can be selected.
