Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2226259A1] The tray has a receiving case (5) for receiving a food product, where the tray is made of cardboard or corrugated board. A lid case (9) is articulated with the receiving case for closing the receiving case after introduction of the food product. An attachment tab (31) for closing the tray is formed on a side of the tray opposite to an articulation of the receiving and lid cases. A projection (35) is adapted to be engaged in a slot (17) at the exterior of a closing face of the tray. Sides (13a, 27a) forming the closing face are formed with specific configuration, surface and orientation. An independent claim is also included for a flank made of rigid or semi-rigid material, permitting to obtain a tray.
