Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0003769A1] Solid cast detergent-containing articles are produced for use in automatic washing machines. A liquid detergent composition is cast onto a mold where it is allowed to solidify. The solid cast detergent, surrounded on all but its upper surface by the mold, is used in automatic washing machines. The cast detergent composition includes an alkaline hydratable chemical and optionally further includes one or more preformed cores or plugs comprising an available chlorine source, a defoamer, or the like.
