Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0005901A2] The disclosure relates to a wall unit for use in the storage and/or display of articles, for example in a store, and to a storage/display structure incorporating such unit. Figure 1 shows a structure which includes two wall units (24), each comprising a relatively rigid, self-supporting panel having front and rear surfaces each formed with an array of openings into which article supporting elements can be selectively fitted. Shelves (26) extend between the wall units and are supported on said elements. Further shelves (28) are disposed at outer faces of the wall units.
