Abstract (en)
[origin: US4326467A] A pallet is provided from a single profiled metal sheet which has the opposite edges folded inwardly several times along bend lines that extend transversely to profiled grooves of the sheet so as to form hollow girders having perpendicular supporting walls along the pallet edges. The sheet is provided along the bend lines and in accordance with the configuration of the profiled grooves with rows of recesses having associated slots to accommodate folding of the profiled sheet into the hollow girders.
