Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0023746A1] A process and apparatus for providing the surface of margarine and similar pasty products with small cavities prior to bringing said surface into contact with smooth packaging material for decreasing the adherence of said packaging material to said surface. Embossing by directing gas jets onto said surface is preferred, although imprinting with a die is possible as well. The apparatus for putting the process into practice comprises means (11) for making small cavities in the surface (4) of the product. Preferred embodiments of said means are a hollow die (11) with a plurality of nozzle-like openings (12) or a die having a plurality of profilings.
