Abstract (en)
A container (12) has a first section (18) in which is mounted a distributing roller (20) and which has a brush (22) on its end. A second section (16) is attached to a handle (14) and an open cleaning powder container (29) is slid into the second section. The roller (20) distributes the powder on the carpet. The device is then turned over so that the brush (22) can be used to scrub in the powder which is then vacuumed up.
