Abstract (en)

1. Upholstered corner furniture with corner shelf surface, which has two upholstered armchairs arranged at right angles to each other, comprising of a lower cushion (3), a seat cushion (4) and a back cushion (6) as well as a box for bedding (2) and which can be converted into a double bed, characterized in that the piece of furniture has a one-piece support frame (1) with an appertaining box for bedding (2), in that a second support frame (7) is attached by means of hinges (8) at the side of the support frame (1), which is the same height as the first support frame (1) and the box the bedding (2) together, however, having only half their length and which can be folded in the corner position of the furniture onto the one-piece support frame (1) along a horizontal axis formed by the hinges (8), in that, adjacent to the second support frame (7), in the folded open position of the support frame (7) another equal-support frame (1.1) with an appertaining box for bedding (2.1) is connected to the one-piece support frame (1) in such a manner that it can be swiveled around a vertical axis, by means of a hinge (12) at the lowest point in the corner which is formed by the one-piece support frame (1) and the second support frame (7) in the folded-open double bed position, and in that, in the corner position of the furniture, the lower cushion (3, 3.1), the seat cushion (4, 4.1) and the back cushion (6, 6.1) are arranged on the one-piece support frame (1) and with the swiveling connected support frame (1.1), while in the double bed position the lower cushions (3, 3.1) and the seat cushions (4, 4.1) result in the lying surface when they are folded at the hinges (5, 5.1) and in some case the back cushions (6, 6.1) are connected via hanging loops (14, 14.1) to the box for bedding (2, 2.1).

Abstract (de)

Ein Eckpolstermöbel mit Eckablagefläche, das 2 rechtwinklig zueinander angeordnete und aus Unter- (3, 3.1), Sitz- (4, 4.1) und Rückenpolster (6, 6.1) sowie Bettkästen (2, 2.1) aufweist, wird durch die Erfindung so verbessert, daß die Umwandlung des Sitzmöbels in ein Doppelbett normaler Breite und Länge möglich ist, wobei die Eckablagefläche für die Liegefläche nicht verloren geht.
