Abstract (en)

[origin: WO8100988A1] Child's booster seat (1) for use by a child in an automobile, the booster seat having anchorage means to anchor the booster seat to the seat belts (18) of the vehicle. The seat belt is passed around an anchorage bar (8) and locked to the seat so that the seat is secure irrespective of whether the child is seated therein. The seat belt then is used to secure the child.
