Abstract (en)
[origin: WO8103645A1] Method for manufacturing tapestry decorated with stones on a base element consisting particularly of a cloth or a metal plate on which decorative members are applied. From a photography or a drawing, a model (1) is set and arranged on the base element (5), said model having a preanalysed screen with guiding points indicating the presence or absence of a decorative member (9), the colour and signs of the decorative member, said model (1) being separated from the base element (5) after the setting in place of decorative members (9). Application to tapestries or paintings decorated with stones.
