Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0057455A2] To plane simultaneously two opposite surfaces of a piece, for example a panel, and to clean and blunt the edges, the plane, particularly a hand plane, has two similar tool holders (1, 2). Both tool holders (1, 2) are arranged facing each other and are joined by a device (4, 7, 36-39) allowing the adjustment of their distance in order to adapt them to the distances of surfaces or edges to be planed. Preferably, the adjustment device is comprised of at least one spring (4).
