Abstract (en)
Band 10, which has pocketing 11, 12, 13 for curtain hooks (not shown) is formed with first draw cords 14, one adjacent each edge of the band 10, and second draw cords 15 also one adjacent each edge of the band 10, these two sets of cords being alternatively shortenable according to the kind of pleat required. Shortening of the first cords 14 serves to produce pencil pleats that is to say regular, closely adjacent pleats along the entire length of the tape 10. Shortening of the second cords 15 serves to produce french pleats that is to say alternate pleated and non-pleated sections along the length of the tape 10.
