Abstract (en)

[origin: US4641982A] A printer housing cover particularly adapted for use with printers capable of operating either with endless tractor fed perforated margin paper or single sheet paper. The housing cover has a portion thereof overlying the paper roller or platen defining a slot through the housing cover for paper egress. The portion overlying the platen is pivotable to provide a wide opening above the platen with the pivoted portion forming a paper support surface for insertion of single sheets.
