Abstract (en)
A moulded plastic garment hanger (10) has a garment gripping clamp including a pair of jaws (21, 22) joined by a hinge (23), one jaw (21) of which has a bifurcated portion adjacent its free end and the other (22) is of a size and shape such that it can pass through the bifurcated end of the one jaw. The clamp is fabricated of a resilient plastic and has a latch (33) for holding it closed on a garment while partially flexed by the garment.
