Abstract (en)
[origin: US4479729A] An interchangeable stuffing cassette for a cassette acceptance means of a typewriter or printer, has a stuffing space and a ribbon which is transported out of and into the stuffing space by means of an external drive. Outside of the cassette acceptance means, the stuffing space is closed by a flap. A slot by means of which the ribbon is stretched tight is situated in the flap. Upon insertion into the cassette acceptance means, the flap is pivoted to the side, whereby the stuffing space is opened and the ribbon is released.
