Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0104745A1] For windsurfing in particular, the aquatic sportsman requires protective clothing which is waterproof, neat in appearance and allowing freedom for the arms. In accordance with the present invention, it is proposed to provide a suit including a bolero garment having a body portion, a neck seal 4, wrist seals 3 and a seal 5 to cooperate with a leg and body portion of a conventional wet suit. It is also preferred that th the wet suit may itself be made waterproof at the ankles for maximum effect. The sleeves 2 are shown as loose fitting and are preferably made of a breathable but waterproof material.
