Abstract (en)
[origin: US4538747A] A dispenser for apportioned dispensing of material, particularly pasty masses. The dispenser has a piston which travels within the dispenser storage chamber toward a mouthpiece dependent on actuating steps. A slide is displaceable toward the mouthpiece by an actuating handle. The slide is guided in sealed fashion by a lip. The slide includes a wing which, upon an actuating stroke, comes in sealing fashion against the wall of an ejection channel and upon a return stroke lifts away from the wall of the ejection channel. The wing is flat in shape, and forms one resiliently movable leg of the slide. The slide is V shaped, with the V tip facing the piston, and extending into the material.
