Abstract (en)

The tube nest support comprises a modular grid formed from removably interlocked bars (13, 16, 22, 24...) some of which bearing with their ends on two parallel beams (1, 2) located at the periphery of the tube nest and being connected to the exchanger bearing structure, the bars (e.g. 13) which are located at either ends of each module being hingedly coupled to ear members (e.g. 14, 15) welded to the beams (1, 2), the grid mesh size being such as to allow the tubes (3, 4, 5) to pass therethrough in a loose fit relationship.
