Abstract (en)

This invention relates to a hair wrapper for use in the colouring of hair comprising a substantially transparent synthetic plastics sheet 2 and at least one securing filament or strip 1. The plastics sheet 2 may be folded to enclose a strand of hair which is to be coloured together with a bleaching or colouring composition in a substantially transparent enclosure. One or more securing filaments or strips 1 hold the hair wrapper on the hair. The transparent enclosure provides a window for viewing the colouring process and facilitates the monitoring of the colouring of the hair.
