Abstract (en)

A necktie assembly easily fittable and removable to a wearer's neck without tying or untying a knot thereof, which comprises a tie body having a shape similar to a traditional tie and a knot formed by tying a part of the tie body around a core body (3). The core body has a channel (5a) by which a free end (2b) of the tie body can be inserted into the knot while keeping a neatly folded shape thereof. The necktie assembly may have a pin (7) or the like built-in the core body for securing the necktie.
