Abstract (en)
A freely elongatable two-stage type of pipe consisting of a smaller-diameter pipe member inserted into a larger-diameter pipe member, a package thereof and a packing equipment therefor. Said package consists of films having cavity containing a freely elongatable two-stage type of pipe and welded at peripheries thereof. Said packing equipment has an automatic product inspection line and so adapted as to continuously pack only freely elongatable two-stage type of pipes judged as normal by said automatic inspection line.
