Abstract (en)
A nozzle for dispensing a liquid for use in trigger actuated sprays or aerosol sprays. The nozzle (10) comprises a body (11) having a convex, preferably hemispherical, face (14), a cap member (17) overlying the convex face of the body and having a concave, preferably hemispherical inner face (18) lying in close proximity with the convex face of the body and defining therebetween an enclosed space (19). A discharge outlet (21) extends through the cap member (17) at a point adjacent its centre and a liquid inlet duct (22) opens into the enclosed space (19) adjacent an edge thereof.
