Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0135757A2] This invention relates to a detachable work top (1) to be used with foldup ladders (7), which can be converted into structures such as a work bench, table or step ladder. The top (1) comprises a rectangular main portion (3) and a narrower extending section (2). The main portion (3) fits over and around the rails of the ladder (7) (after conversion to a work bench) and the narrower extending section (2) fits inside the rails (9) but on substantially the same plane as the main portion (3).
