Abstract (en)
A wall display assembly includes a wallboard (12) with a front face shaped and marked to represent a sports playing area, such as a hockey rink. Means (14, 16) are provided for attaching the wallboard to a wall, and the wallboard (12) has holes for receiving hooks or the like on frames (20) adapted to retain and display card members such as hockey cards (20a, 22). The wallboard has means (39, 32) defining slots remote from the front face, the slot-defining means (30, 32) providing laterally accessible compartments for receiving and storing card members (20a, 22) not on display. Furthermore, the slot-defining means spaces the wallboard (12) from a wall to which the wallboard is attachable, thus giving it a sense of relief or forward projection, and protecting the hooks engaging the holes. The slot defining means are preferably adapted to receive box shaped containers (44) wherein a multiplicity of cards (20a, 22) may be stored.
