Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0152831A2] A transparent folder serving for the protective storage of printed matter or drawings, and open on at least one side, entails the danger that the inserted printed matter may slide out from such transparent folders as a consequence of the smooth surface of the latter. This is prevented, according to the invention, in that a tongue (22) is cut out in the edge region (21) of a part (2) of a transparent folder and engages over the rearward edge (11) of the other part (1) of the transparent folder (Fig. 1). <IMAGE>
