Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0170338A1] Rolling door, rolling shutter or such provided with a number of profiles (8) which can hinge relatively to each other around hinge pins, which extend at least substantially at a right angle to the direction in which the profiles are displaceable along the ends of rails (27) guiding the profile for opening and/or closing the rolling door, rolling shutter or such, with coupling pieces attached at the ends of the profiles, which coupling pieces are mutually coupled with the aid of a strap (26) which extends in the possible direction of displacement of the profiles, which is flexible in one direction, such that the strap allows the hinging movement of the profiles.
