Abstract (en)

[origin: ES289255U] A rotatable shelf insert for corner cupboards comprising at least one shelf of substantially circular overall shape. A guide rod passes through a hub in the center of the shelf. The shelf is supported on the guide rod by means of a retaining pin passing through the guide rod at right angles. The hub receives the guide rod with radial play. A cylindrical clamping sleeve conically tapered at one end by variation of the wall thickness is inserted between the guide rod and the inner wall of the hub.
