Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0194625A2] The cabin is provided with a closable entry opening, a tub and one or more shower heads arranged above the tub, so that these can also be used for whole-body massage, and with bearings (37, 40) which are arranged above the tub and below the shower heads, and a grille (38) completely or partially bridging the cross-section of the cabin. An opening (6) is arranged at the height of the grille (38) in a side wall (5) of the cabin (1). In addition, a circulating pump (17) is provided, which takes the water gathered in the tub and returns it, under pressure, to the shower heads (21-23). <IMAGE>
