Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0202139A2] Multi-function manicure tool, of the type consisting of an outer tubular handle (1) which, at one end, is provided with an orange stick (2), and which serves as a container for a unit formed by a cuticle remover (10), a file (11) and a cleaning tip (12). In the said tool, the said handle (1) is transparent and substantially flattened, its small sides being translucent or matt and forming the orange stick (2) at the straight end portion of the handle, the said handle (1) being completed by a cap (13) provided with fastening means and combined with ends which are duly profiled for carrying out three functions: one of cutting, another of levelling the nail edges and the last one for removing blackheads or small skin blemishes. <IMAGE>
