Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0202505A2] Drum-type washing machine whose washing drum is rotatably arranged within a liquor container, with a detergent dispenser for pulverulent and/or liquid treatment media, and the liquor container communicates with a run-off system which consists of a run-off pipe, a liquor pump and a run-off tube, and the run-off pipe contains a valve which closes during the flushing in of the treatment medium. To ensure that the valve is indeed in the closed position before fresh water is added, the liquor pump is first briefly operated before the start of the addition of fresh water into the liquor container. <IMAGE>
