Abstract (en)
[origin: WO8604040A1] A pallet and lifting trolley therefor. The pallet has a load bearing surface (2) with supporting legs (3), (4) extending therefrom to a base level. Lifting attachment means are provided and located between the load bearing surface and the base level of the supporting legs and comprise lifting support members (6), (7) at each supporting leg providing first and second support surfaces (9), (10) spaced apart to define a gap allowing for the entrance and insertion of a lifting platform of a lifting trolley to effect support and lifting of the pallet. The lifting trolley comprises a lifting platform and upstanding handles, the platform and handles being carried by a support extending from an axle joining support wheels.
