Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0212035A2] The binder or the like consists of a cardboard blank which is laminated in a bookbinding manner on the outside with cloudy marbled paper and on the inside with paper and it has a rear-side lamination of a plastic film. In order to construct a binder of this type with little expenditure in such a way that it is washable and does not tend to become distorted in changing humidity, it is proposed that both the cloudy marbled paper and the paper of the inside lamination are extrusion-coated with plastic. <IMAGE>
