Abstract (en)
[origin: US4749243A] A drawer has lateral drawer frames of injection molded plastics to which are fastened pull-out rails rolling on runner rollers at the sides of the body of an article of furniture. Slides are arranged at the rear sides of the drawer frames and at the pull-out rails. The slides engage the supporting rails at the side of the body and are movable therealong. The slides are inserted into the drawer frames from the rear thereof and have projections which engage in recesses of the respective drawer frames.
