Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0224754A2] This arrangement, which comprises a central station 1 and several subscriber sets 2, has at each subscriber set a large LCD display 24 on which messages and user information appear in text form in the respective language which has been set by the subscriber at a channel selection switch 25 as the monitoring language. The LCD display 24 is appropriately controlled by a processor 31 which knows the position of the channel selection switch 25 and sends display texts in the corresponding language to the LCD display 24 from a text memory 36. <IMAGE>
