Abstract (en)

The present invention relates to a vertical blind (10) including a plurality of inserts (18). Each of the inserts (18) is provided with a portion (20) of a design which is visible when the vertical blind (10) is closed to provide a continuous undistorted design across the blind. The insert (18) is further provided with an obstructed portion (22) which is not seen when the blind (10) is closed but provides a continuous design component appearance across each vertical louver (14) when the blind is open.
