Abstract (en)
[origin: WO8700124A1] The disclosed device is arranged at the height of the conventional protection cover (4, 14) above the writing or printing mechanism. A fluorescent tube (6) may be placed into a separate conduit (7) at the level of the front edge of the protection (4) or may be incorporated into a thickening. A light outlet window (8) is so arranged as to obtain an anti-reflecting lighting of the writing.
