Abstract (en)

The key (1) incorporates an identification element (7) enabling it to be identified at first sight from among other like keys. This key (1) has, formed at its head (3), at least one seat (4) for accommodating a rigid insert (7) to be fitted therein. The insert (7) may have any different colors and be apertured to enable the key (1) to be associated, for example, with a key holder.
