Abstract (en)
[origin: WO8701019A1] A seat convertible into a bed having a furniture frame (1) which encases the space for the bed structure (18). A carriage (5), provided with padding (6), forms the upper cover of the space for the bed structure (18) in the position of the unit for sitting. In the lying position of the unit, a plate (15) pivoting in the frame of the unit (1) is placed on the space for the bed structure (18) and this plate (15) serves as a support for a cushion (14). The remaining part of the surface for lying is formed by a cushion (10), which serves as the back support in the sitting position and can be pivoted forward by arms (12).
