Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0232804A2] There is always the requirement to accommodate as much information as possible on a calendar but, at the same time, to keep it clear and attractive. Accordingly, it is proposed at least partially to shade a (transparent) strip (14) which marks a current week (16) on a month sheet (12) to highlight at least the working days of the current week in relation to the other days on the month sheet provided with the strip (14). <IMAGE>
