Abstract (en)
[origin: WO8701264A1] A one-piece, injection molded, open framework plastic file folder (10) is provided to be employed as a substitute for paperboard file folders. The file folder includes two panels (12, 14) which fold about a hinge (18) and are provided with hanging hooks for suspending the file folder in a drawer or the like. Alternatively, the plastic file folder is provided with paper-receiving prongs for posting documents.
