Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0234770A2] A side table and clamp is provided for a metal baler of the type having a co-operating baling box and lid forming a shear such that large pieces of sheet may be readily held and cut in a series of operations the cut pieces being pressed into the box of the metal baler by the hydraulic lid. The clamp may be operated independently of the main lid closure thereby giving safe operation for the baler.
