Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0248291A2] The package is made of plastic and consists of several interconnected and jointly sealed dishes (1, 2, 3). In order to be able to heat such a package in a small pot in a space-saving and energy-saving manner, the webs (6, 7) between the dishes are provided with weakening lines (10, 11), along which the dishes can be folded together and placed on top of one another with their sealed-on covering films (8). At least one of the dishes (3) can be separated from the other dishes (1, 2) along the weakening lines (10, 11). <IMAGE>
