Abstract (en)
[origin: WO8605082A1] Reusable cleansing cloths for cleaning surfaces and being adaptable into a holder, constituting a textile cloth, the cleansing side of which being provided with a thick layer of thread loops. The textile cloth (1) is made from crocheted chemical fibre thread and the cleansing layer consists of cotton thread (2) crocheted into the textile cloth, which cotton thread, thus, forms the thick layer of thread loops, whereby the layer is arranged in several parallel tracks (3, 4, 5) with the bare textile cloth therebetween. Hereby a more easily handled cloth is achieved, which glides easier across the surface to be cleaned.
