Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0253411A2] This garage can be constructed from individual prefabricated, preferably lightweight, building elements (17, 18) and, in a comparatively space-saving design, has dimensions (b, h, l) which are adapted to the dimensions of the vehicle (1) to be accommodated in terms of width (B), height (H), and length (L) and at least one front door (2) provided transversely to the direction of travel for entering and leaving, and at least one side gate (3) arranged in the direction of travel for the purpose of freely opening the side doors of the vehicle (1) and also for the purpose of leaving the garage (10) unhindered, and the front door (2) and the lateral sliding gate (3) have coupling means (8, 9) for the mechanical coupling of their opening mechanisms (6, 7), which are constructed to bring about a forced simultaneous opening or closing movement of door (2) and gate (3). <IMAGE>
