Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0258549A2] The crate is made, in particular, of plastic and has a central handle for lifting the crate. The side walls with transversely extending compartment walls in the interior of the crate form a compartment division for the bottles to be accommodated. Formed in the bottom of the crate is at least one recess for the immersion of the central handle of a crate stacked in the next layer below. <IMAGE>
