Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0265418A2] An arrangement with a printer (1) and a support structure carrying the latter, for example a printer table (2), and with a paper web (5), which is fed from a supply source to the printer (1) carried by the support structure and led from this, after printing, to a stacking station. <??>In order to facilitate a simple and speedy change-over or introduction of the paper web into the printer, a paper web guide (60) is provided, consisting of at least two guide elements (7, 8; 7', 7"; 8', 8"), arranged at least partially parallel to one another and preferably rigid, which at one end form a slit (13) facing the printer (1) and at the other end a slit (12) freely accessible and permitting entry or exit of the paper web (5); if appropriate, one of the two guide elements (7, 8; 7', 7"; 8', 8") is formed at least partially by a wall of the printer (1) and/or by the table (2). <IMAGE>
