Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0277388A1] The box comprises a base (1) with a rectangular profile capable of being fastened to a wall, and a lid (2) with rounded corners, which has a central opening (9) cut out in it and is capable of being snap- fastened onto the said base. A cardboard package (3), capable of being easily replaced, is introduced into this box, the said package containing a pack of polyethylene sachets for hygienic use, which are assembled by double folding into an "S" shape, the edges being interleaved, in order to permit manual removal of the sachets via the central opening (9) in the lid (2) with a view to presenting, as each sachet is removed, the edge of the next sachet. <IMAGE>
