Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0286769A1] During the translational movement of the containers, the sliver is deposited on a moveable table (5), seized and gripped by clamping means (6, 10) in the vicinity of the filled container, entrained in the direction opposite the translational movement of the containers by means (7, 9, 91) removing the sliver coils deposited on the table (5) and is finally sheared or broken at the location of the clamping means (6, 10) by the tension exerted on the sliver at the end of the movement entraining the sliver coils. <IMAGE>
