Abstract (en)

[origin: WO8803376A1] Bristled articles having a bristle mounting (1) with at least one hole (2) on each of its opposing faces for the insertion of single or bundles of artificial bristles (3) in order to furnish the opposing faces with bristles are produced in such a way that the holes in the bristle mounting (1) connect. The bristles (3) inserted from both sides of the bristle mounting (1) are melted at the end which faces the bristle mounting (1) and are inserted into the opposing holes until the melted substances have come in contact.
