Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0314305A2] Respiratory therapy apparatus is provided with setting elements such as knobs 12, 14, 16 for inputting set values for various parameters. A digital display 52 is provided for showing measured values of operational variables. The set point for each parameter is displayed on the display apparatus along with the measured values only when the knob 12, 14, 16 or setting element for the particular parameter is engaged by the operator's hand.
